£38m ROAD BOOST GETS GREEN LIGHT

WITNEY'S new splash park at The Leys welcomed youngsters for the first time this week - just in time for the summer holidays.

The playground opened on Monday - the first day of the holiday break - and children and parents alike have been enjoying the £250,000 facility.

The park is the end result of a three-year campaign. Deb Benn, a fundraiser and campaigner for the park, said: "It's great to see it open finally and to see all these kids here having fun.

The mum-of-two added: "It's been a long hard slog." • See page 3 for full story

OXFORDSHIRE County Council this week approved a £38-million boost for Witney commuters.

A new Eynsham park-and-ride, a bus lane on the A40 and junction improvements were among the package of measures backed to reduce congestion between the town and Oxford.

The council's cabinet unanimously approved the plans at a meeting on Tuesday at County Hall, Oxford.

County council leader Ian Hudspeth said: "This just shows the commitment of the council to the A40. There are a lot of benefits here and I welcome everybody's support."

He added: "This is the biggest single project in terms of infrastructure across the county."

Work on the scheme is set to begin in 2017 or 2018, with the project expected to be finished by 2019.

The approval of the plans came just after work started on the Cutteslowe and Wolvercote roundabouts on the A40.

The £10m scheme to increase capacity at the two roundabouts started on July 21 and is expected to take 16 months to complete.

Oxford five star hotel set for roof revamp

THE Randolph Hotel in Oxford is planning a reported £6.5million revamp after a fire in April.

A planning application for the work was submitted to Oxford City Council by the five-star hotel in Beaumont Street, Oxford, on July 10.

The grade II-listed building was closed for over two weeks after a fire earlier this year.

The blaze started in the ground floor kitchen after a flambéed beef stroganoff caught fire, travelling upwards through the kitchen's extractor fan.

The application says in its design statement: "The alterations will restore the fire damaged roof sympathetically to its former glory."

More than 80 people were evacuated in the fire and 14 fire engines were on the scene to fight the blaze.

The hotel reopened on May 6 and has had scaffolding in place since.

It first opened in 1866 and has undergone a number of major refurbishments.

Martin Walker, the head of development and marketing at

By Alexander Ballinger

Experience Oxfordshire – who promote business and tourism in the county – said: "We support the developments.

"The Randolph is the only five-star hotel in the city so it's a great cause.

"They are only proposed works but we absolutely support them." "I think it's iconic. I think there will be a champagne bar as part of the new developments.

Mr Walker added: "Its one of the centrepieces of the city centre."

Work would include the replacement of roof tiles using some existing tiles, new timber windows and new pipework beneath tiled areas.

Oxford City Council has set September 4 as the deadline for a decision.

The hotel has also submitted two other applications: one for minor interior work in the building and another for the refurbishment of the ground floor bar and restaurant.

DIDCOT: A brass plaque and a wooden bench have been placed in Didcot's All Saints Church graveyard in memory of murdered pregnant Didcot teenager Jayden Parkinson.

Ben Blakeley, 23, of Christchurch Road in Reading, was jailed for a minimum of 20 years last July for killing 17-year-old Jayden.

Jayden's mother, Samantha Shrewsbury, opened a memorial garden in Foxhall Road in April this year.

A ceremony for the plaque and bench opening will take place at the church on August 8 at Midday.

Frost's son dead

NUFFIELD: The eldest son of the journalist and broadcaster Sir David Frost died while running in Oxfordshire on Sunday.

Miles Frost, who was 31, collapsed while running in the Nuffield area.

A statement from South Central Ambulance Service said: "We were called at 2.33pm on July 19 to a medical emergency in the Nuffield area.

"We sent the air ambulance, a crew and an ambulance officer to the scene. Sadly, one patient, an adult male, was confirmed deceased at scene."

Child rapist sentenced to 22 years in jail

AN OXFORD man has been handed a 22-year prison sentence after being convicted for sexual offences against children over an eight-year period.

Christopher Goode, 29, of Paradise Street, was sentenced at Oxford Crown Court on Friday to 15 years behind bars with a seven-year-extension.

He was convicted on June 15 following a five-day trial in which he was found guilty of seven counts of rape – two of which were with a child under 13 – seven counts of indecent assault, one count of sexual assault of a child by penetration, one count of sexual assault of a child under 13 and one count of causing a child to engage in sexual activity.

The offences were committed against a boy and a girl between 1998 and 2006 in Oxfordshire.

Investigating officer Det Con Rebecca McLeod, from Thames Valley Police's child abuse investigation unit, said: "This is a significant sentence which reflects the severity of the crimes committed.

"I would like to thank the victims for their courage in coming forward. The victims have been living with the memories of the abuse inflicted upon them for over a decade; hopefully this sentence will enable them to move forward with their lives.

"If anyone is the victim of a sexual offence, please speak to police by calling 101."

Goode was arrested on April 11, 2013 and charged with the offences on March 4 last year.

Man accused of Barton murder pleads not guilty

AN OXFORD man has pleaded not guilty to murdering Wojciech Ryniak in Barton earlier this year.

Rafal Stawski, 34, from Mayfair Road, entered the plea at Oxford Crown Court on Friday afternoon.

He is accused of killing Mr Ryniak, from Gloucestershire, who died from chest injuries at the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford on April 22.

Police officers were called to reports a man having been found injured inside a red Mazda vehicle close to the junction of Northway and Burchester Avenue in Barton on April 21.

The trial of Stawski is set to start at Oxford Crown Court on October 12.

Police had previously arrested a 31-year-old man at the scene on suspicion of attempted murder – which became murder when the victim died.

However police later said no action would be taken against the 31-year-old.

Stawski was then arrested on April 22 at his home and was charged with one count of murder on April 24.

Children enjoy fun in sun at new park

WITNEY'S new splash park at The Leys opened this week - just in time for the summer holidays.

The £250,000 serpentine-shaped water feature was officially launched on Monday, with children and adults taking the chance to cool off in the sun.

It had already been unveiled to campaigners behind the project in a preview event on Friday.

The preview saw the park enjoyed for the first time by Witney youngsters, as well as the Witney Air Training Corps.

By Alexander Ballinger

alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Mum of two Deb Benn, who took her children to the park on Friday, said: "It's great to see it open finally and to see all these kids here having fun."

Ms Benn, who campaigned for the park and helped raise the money, added: "It's been a long hard slog."

As well as the new splash park, The Leys also saw the opening of a café and eight new tennis courts earlier this month.

Claire Swan, facilities manager at Witney Town Council who spearheaded the project, also attended the preview event.

She said: "I'm really happy. It's going to be great."

"It's amazing to see all these kids here. They will remember this park. They won't know about all the hard work that went into it but they will remember playing here."

"It shows what we can do when we pull together."

The park proved to be a hit with the youngsters and adults enjoying the water pistols and the structure christened 'Witney Towers'.

Other features include a reading chair for the more thoughtful children, magnifying glasses for the scientifically minded and birdhouses for the young nature enthusiasts.

The design manager for the park, Tony Lucas from Huck Playgrounds, said: "I'd be lucky to get a project as good as this again."

"It's one of the best projects we've had as a community project. Everybody has pulled together to make this happen."

Mrs Swan added: "I would like to thank WREN, the Oxford Playing Field Association, councillor Harry Eaglestone and Deb Benn."

"They've all been brilliant."

£6m park-and-ride to go on farmland

• From front page

The new £6m park-and-ride at Eynsham will be built on farmland just off the A40, and the £29m eastbound bus lane provided between the Eynsham roundabout and Duke's Cut, Wolvercote.

A further £3m will be spent on junction improvements at Eynsham and Cassington.

The cabinet members were recommended to approve the scheme by the county council's director for environment and economy, Sue Scane.

Her report said: "The current bus services have achieved a notable success in attracting people who are travelling from Witney to Carterton to Oxford city centre, but there is still considerable scope for increasing bus use on journeys to the rest of the city."

The council's cabinet member for environment, David Nimmo Smith, said a public consultation into the scheme would be held later this year.

Labour's Witney South and Central councillor, Laura Price, told the meeting: "It's good to see the comprehensive report of the challenges."

"I just wish the report had been made available to us sooner, rather than being given out at the meeting."

"It's important to ensure access to the information is fully available."

"I think we need as much data as possible."

Wolvercote and Summertown county councillor, Jean Fooks, said: "This won't be done until 2020 which is an awful long way off."

"I'm happy about the park-and-ride in Eynsham, pending what the people of Eynsham think."

The approved scheme forms part of a wider package of improvements the county council is introducing along the A40 within Oxfordshire.

The work being done on the A40 totals £100m.

Extra cash found for £20m tower block improvements

A PLANNED £20m refurbishment of Oxford's tower blocks has been given a £1.75m cash injection by Oxford City Council to meet unexpected rising costs.

Work on the project is set to begin next January, rather than the previously anticipated start date of spring this year, and last for three years.

The project involves improvements to Blackbird Leys' Evenlode and Windrush Towers, Plowman Tower in Northway, Foresters Tower in Wood Farm and Cowley's Hockmore Tower - 348 flats in total.

A sum of £950,000 from the council's revenue and capital programme last year, £100,000 from the housing revenue account fund and £700,000 of unused developer contributions for affordable housing are being used to fund the cash injection.

Labour councillor Scott Seams denied that the plans

By Loughlan Campbell

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

were an overspend, calling it an 'exciting project'.

Liberal Democrat leader Jean Fooks said: "This increase is not at all welcome, it's using money that was selected for new housing."

The scheme had already had its budget increased before, from £16.6m to £18.36m last July.

Green Party leader Craig Simmons said: "Although it is an exciting project, this money could have been spent on providing the much needed housing requirements of the city."

Peter Solman, chief executive of the council, said: "There can be quite a delay between the estimates and the tender."

"It's unfair to criticise them for not being able to predict what the market will do."

Transport scheme for county is given backing of cabinet

OXFORDSHIRE County Council's Local Transport Plan came one step closer to becoming reality this week.

The council's cabinet approved the plan for improving transport from 2015 to 2031 on Tuesday at County Hall in New Road, Oxford.

The plan will now be considered in a full council meeting on September 8, when the cabinet will recommend it for adoption.

Leader of the council, Ian Hudspeth, said: "This is a strategic document to 2031. It's a living document and not necessarily something that will be implemented straightaway."

ments to Oxfordshire's rail networks such as a major upgrade to Oxford Station.

The proposed upgrade would include additional platforms and a new station building created there.

However, some county councillors criticised the transport plan.

Steve Curran, councillor for Leys, said: "Cycling is a big issue. We need to be working with the city council so our proposals are able to run in sync."

Cllr Hudspeth responded: "It's a two-way process."

"It's not just about us moving towards the city or districts. It's about them moving towards us."

Helen Marshall, of the Campaign to Protect Rural England Oxfordshire branch, opposed the building of a new park-and-ride at Lodge Hill, near Abingdon.

She said: "The local people want their Green Belt protected. How is the council going to respond?"

Force reports five per cent drop in crime across area

THAMES Valley Police has reported a five per cent decrease in crime between 2014 and 2015 - the second largest in England and Wales.

Statistics published last week by the Office of National Statistics revealed there were 121,198 recorded crimes between April 2014 and the end of March 2015.

This was down from the total of 127,431 recorded for 2013 to 2014.

But despite the overall fall, the force said there had been a 62 per cent increase in the number of reported rapes in the region.

Chief Constable Francis Habgood said: "While the figures on rapes are higher, I believe that this shows a greater confidence among victims that the police will deal with the rape in an effective and sympathetic way."

"Crime across the area continues to fall and victim satisfaction remains high."

"This is a testament to the officers, staff and volunteers who, with the support of members of the public and partners, worked so hard to achieve this."

The statistics also revealed a 21.4 per cent decrease in domestic burglaries.

City council voices concern over climate change policy

OXFORD City Council has written to two local MPs to voice its concerns over the government's climate change policy.

Councillor John Tanner was asked to send the letter to Oxford West and Abingdon Conservative MP Nicola Blackwood and Oxford East Labour MP Andrew Smith by the council on Monday.

In the letter, Cllr Tanner said: "Last night Oxford City Council asked me to write to you both about its concern that the new Conservative government appears to be back-tracking on Britain's commitment to reduce carbon emissions. "Could you tell me what you are able to do in parliament to represent our concerns?"

• Cllr John Tanner

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The head of the Cleaner, Greener Oxford campaign added: "We feel Oxford is showing the way to create a low-carbon future.

"George Osborne's budget added to the concerns many people in Oxford have about a climate change U-turn."

Ms Blackwood responded to Cllr Tanner's comments, saying: "The government has been clear in its commitment to promote low-carbon investment and innovation. "Oxford residents also tell me they want the government to focus on energy efficiency and keeping costs down for consumers.

"Oxfordshire leads the way on low-carbon technologies and energy efficiency whether it is Low Carbon Oxford's community campaigns and advocacy, Oxford University's cutting-edge research, local companies like OxPV taking solar to new levels, or Oxford City Council driving efficiencies at local authority level."

The letter went on to say that the cutting of tax for North Sea oil would only encourage fossil fuel use, while adding that charging renewable energy as a carbon tax was like 'imposing an alcohol duty on fruit juices'.

Cllr Tanner wrote: "It is difficult to see how the United Kingdom will meet the 80 per cent reduction in carbon emission by 2050 if the government continues with these kinds of policies."

The chairman of Oxford East Conservatives, Mark Bhagwan-din, said: "Conservatives remain committed to reducing carbon emissions.

"However, we believe the government must balance its commitment to achieving environmental targets with the traditionally enormous costs which accrue to the taxpayer."

Andrew Smith was unavailable for comment.

Burglar caught after leaving ID at scene

A BUNGLING burglar has been sentenced to four years and three months in prison for burglary after leaving his identification in the victim's home.

Nathan Bourton, 33, of Dashwood Road in Oxford, was sentenced on July 16 at Oxford Crown Court after being convicted of one count of burglary and two counts of handling stolen goods, relating to three different addresses.

Investigating officer Detective Constable Stuart McLaren, of Oxford CID, said: "I hope the sentence given to Bourton will bring a sense of justice to the victims and will serve as a reminder to offenders that Thames Valley Police will bring burglars to justice."

On January 12, police received a call from a resident in Oliver Road after they heard noises coming from a neighbouring property.

When police arrived at the scene, they found Bourton in the first-floor bedroom. He then jumped from a window before stealing £500 cash.

Bourton was later identified as the offender after leaving identification at the victim's property.

• Nathan Bourton

Between December 27 and 30 last year, a property in Wytham Street was broken into and jewellery, £60 in cash, headphones and champagne were stolen.

On December 2 last year, a house in Newman Road was broken into while the victims were away and jewellery worth £7,780 was stolen.

Bourton was identified after selling some of the jewellery at a pawn-brokers in Oxford.

Det Con McLaren added: "Bourton tried to play the victim in this case.

"He claimed he was the victim of a theft, in an attempt to account for his property being found at the scene in Oliver Road.

"Fortunately, the jury did not fall for his deception."

Rowers have sights set on Rio Olympics

THREE Oxfordshire rowers are looking to qualify for 2016 Rio Olympics as they head to the World Rowing Championships in Aiguebelette, France, later this year.

The trio is among a 66-strong squad for the regatta that serves as the qualifying competition for next year's Olympics and Paralympics. Katie Greves and Olivia Carnegie-Brown will compete in the women's eight, while Constantine Louloudis will be in the men's eight squad.

The event will run from August 30 to September 6, and the GB team also includes Olympic, world and European champions Helen Glover and Heather Stanning.

Olivia told the Guardian: "I'm super excited for the tournament, our preparation is going very well so far and it's going to be a very close tournament."

In each category, the five highest finishers will automatically qualify for Rio 2016, and the 24-year-old believes the competition could be even tougher than next year's South American tournament.

She added: "Rio is at the forefront of our minds and it spurs us on to succeed. It's going to be one of the tougher finals and could even be harder than the Olympics itself."

"We have got to perform as a crew. We are thinking about it constantly and are confident of progress but we're not just aiming for a fifth place, we want to be on that podium."

Team-mate Katie, 32, said: "It's going to be really difficult but I think we have a great chance. We rowed at Aiguebelette last year and the weather was really hot, but I think we're pretty much prepared for the conditions."

"We know that it's a lot of pressure but we feel that we can meet the standard that's going to be set." The duo will be part of the GB women's squad that will spend three weeks in Germany and two in Italy.

Oxford University student Louloudis is also set for his first big international tournament after missing out on the European Rowing Championships in Poland due to it clashing with his exams.

The men's squad will start training in Austria for three weeks before heading to Portugal for another two weeks.

Oxford teacher praised by long-time friend in tribute

A CHILDHOOD friend of an Oxford schoolteacher who drowned in a bath due to an epileptic seizure described her as 'a wonderful person to have around'.

Oxford Academy art teacher Nina Von Eichstorff, 51, died at her home in Southfield Road, Oxford, on March 28 this year.

Coroner Darren Salter ruled Miss Von Eichstorff's death as an accident at an inquest into her death at Oxford Coroner's Court, in New Road, last Tuesday.

Her friend Jo Buffery, 53, of Cambridge, knew Miss Von Eichstorff when they were ballet dancers as teenagers in Cambridge.

The duo recently connected after Miss Von Eichstorff applied to take part in a weekly art course run in St Martin Le Redon, in south-west France, by Ms Buffery.

She told the Guardian: "Nina was a wonderful person to have around, she was so supportive of everyone and really encouraged people to pursue their interests."

"When we rediscovered each other, we were talking non-stop when we were together."

"She was truly a lovely person to be around, so inspiring, funny and had a very warm heart."

Ms Von Eichstorff had taught at Oxford Academy in Littlemore since 2008 and had previously worked at its predecessor Peers School on the same site from 2000.

The inquest revealed that the seizure she suffered in the bath was the first she had had in ten years.

Council advice

OXON: Oxfordshire County Council is recommending that commuters keep up to date with roadworks across the county in an effort to avoid delays.

These include the latest project on the A40 at Wolvercote and Cutteslowe.

The work at the two roundabouts on the A40 started on Tuesday and is expected to take 16 months to complete.

Some motorists have already experienced significant delays as they navigate the roadworks.

And the revamp of Frideswide Square in Oxford moved into its second major phase on Monday. Two overnight closures on the A34 at the Milton Interchange are also planned for tonight and this coming Monday.

Driver arrested

STADHAMPTON: A 59-year-old Oxford woman who was arrested on suspicion of dangerous driving and drink-driving last week has been released on bail until August 28.

Police were informed of an incident on the A329 between Great Milton and Stadhampton.

They want to speak to the owner of a Landrover Discovery who might have avoided a head-on collision with a silver BMW saloon at about 7pm on July 19.

The BMW was later reported as being driven erratically on the stretch of the B480 from Stadhampton to Cuddesdon.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps."

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated." So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Vale calls for Oxford to review local plan

VALE of White Horse District Council has called on Oxford City Council to review its Local Plan.

The Vale fears that Oxford City is not doing enough to meet housing targets and that the burden of meeting them could fall on the four neighbouring councils in Oxfordshire.

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Vale council leader Matthew Barber said: "Local plans have to be kept up to date and Oxford's plan, dating from 2011, urgently needs review to take account of a very large increase in its housing numbers."

"Every council has to demonstrate it has examined all its options for providing new housing before it concludes it can't meet its needs."

"This requires a fresh look at all potential housing land within the city boundaries, and a review of policies that are out of date and which are now stopping reasonable developments from proceeding."

The Oxfordshire Structure Plan - included in the city council's local plan - gave a target of 6,500 houses to be built between 2001 and 2016.

However the Oxfordshire Strategic Housing

Market Assessment, published in 2014 by London-based property consultants GL Hearn, suggests that would not be enough.

The study said that Oxford needed to build between 1,200 and 1,600 homes a year to meet housing needs between 2011 and 2031.

City council leader Bob Price said: "A further local plan review for the city is not necessary at this time, nor will it contribute to finding more land for development."

"The council's local plan was approved by the Secretary of State in 2011, and the independent inspector at the recent Northern Gateway public inquiry endorsed it as fully compliant and up to date."

Vale planning committee chairman, Robert Sharp, said: "The Oxfordshire Strategic Housing Market Assessment suggested that Oxford City has got to build a fair few more houses."

"If they don't meet their housing targets, it's up to other district councils to meet those targets."

"We'd like them to carry out a review and to commit to building more houses."

The Vale resolved that it would like Oxford to review its housing needs within the next 12 to 16 months - and that this should not hold up its own local plan.

Investigation launched by watchdog into finances of health trust

A HEALTH watchdog has launched an investigation into Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust.

The trust lost £3.7million in the last financial year and the watchdog Monitor is investigating what can be done to fix the financial problems.

Monitor is a non-departmental public body of the Department of Health and is responsible for regulating NHS foundation trusts across England.

The watchdog said it was concerned the trust was not making enough savings.

Monitor's regional director, Paul Streat, said: "We want to know what more it could be doing to be more efficient, and how local healthcare organisations could help it to improve its finances."

The Headington-based trust has set itself a target of £5.1m in savings for the next year.

The suggested national targets are £11m.

Trust spokesman Rhianne Pope said: "We welcome Monitor's investigation into our financial plans."

She added: "We will be collaborating closely with them as it progresses."

Thousands revel in the fun of annual Truck Festival

By Loughlan Campbell

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

THOUSANDS of music fans were whipped into a frenzy as they revelled in the sounds of this year's Truck Festival at Steventon.

More than 6,000 of them enjoyed the 'party atmosphere' of the 17th annual Hill Farm event, which saw the headline acts of indie band The Charlatans and electronic duo Basement Jaxx proving a big draw for the music devotees of all ages from Oxfordshire and beyond.

But it was the Tunbridge Wells punk duo Slaves who caused the biggest stir of the weekend as they packed out the 350-person Barn

• Nothing But Thieves on the Truck Stage

Stage, with about 1,000 disappointed fans unable to get into the farm building to enjoy the gig.

The set was one of the weekend's highlights despite two flares being thrown over the heads of the crowd.

No injuries were reported.

Slaves' drummer Isaac Holman said: "I like that people of all ages tried to get in to come and see us. It was an awesome set."

Festival organiser Matt Harrap said: "We really wanted a special party atmosphere for the Slaves' set, but our sympathies go to those that didn't manage to make it in."

"The whole festival has been really great."

"It gets bigger each year and we believe that people keep coming back due to the quality of the music and the atmosphere."

The fans flooded in to the farmland site from across Oxfordshire and beyond for the three-day event from Friday lunchtime to Sunday morning.

One of them, Debbie Sims, 31, who lives in Summertown, Oxford, said: "I love the atmosphere here, it's so nice and laid back."

"The local feel is also really important to the vibe you get from it - and it's great that Oxfordshire is well represented here."

Another music devotee, Nancy Laws, 19, from Exeter, said: "It's a pretty intimate festival here and the wide mix of genres makes sure there's something for everyone."

The crowd won high praise from bands with Conor Mason, of Nothing But Thieves, calling them 'crazy'.

"We loved that crowd, they were so much fun," he said. "They were getting a great buzz off our music."

As well as the music, the festival also featured many stalls and tents for the partygoers, with Didcot Rotary Club and Oxford Spire Rotary Club selling hot drinks and baked goods.

See the entertainment section of this week's Guardian for more coverage on Truck Festival.

Town's court earmarked for closure in new scheme

FRESH plans to shut Bicester Magistrates' Court were unveiled last week.

The court in Queen's Avenue was earmarked for closure in a report published on Thursday by Courts Minister Shailesh Vara.

The court was one of 19 in the south-east, and almost 100 across England and Wales, listed as 'underused'.

The government's Courts and Tribunals Service launched a consultation on Thursday.

Mr Vara said: "We are reforming the courts and tribunal service so that it meets the needs of modern day users."

The move would mean residents in and around Bicester would have to travel to Oxford.

The Courts and Tribunals Service said most of the courts earmarked for closure were not in use three-quarters of the time.

Chief executive Natalie Ceeney said: "I encourage anyone with an interest to respond to the proposals."

The consultation closes on October 8.

No possible date for closure has been set.

Mother of teenage victim urges PM to take action over legalisation of drugs

THE mother of a teenage girl who died from an ecstasy overdose has urged the Prime Minister to legalise drugs.

Two years ago on Monday, 'bright and funny' 15-year-old Martha Fernback, of Summer-town, Oxford, died from an overdose of MDMA - commonly known as ecstasy.

Martha's mother, Anne-Marie Cockburn, visited 10 Downing Street last Wednesday to lobby David Cameron for the legalisation and regulation of drugs.

Full-time campaigner Ms Cockburn, 44, said: "The Misuse of Drugs act was brought in 44 years ago to reduce the number of people being killed by drugs. It's done the exact opposite."

"We're asking David Cameron to commission an independent review into the legalisation of drugs. It's a business 100 per cent run by criminals. Give me a chemist or pharmacist over that any day."

Ms Cockburn co-founded the campaign group Anyone's Child: Families for Safer Drug Control alongside the Transform Drug Policy Foundation following her daughter's death.

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

On July 20, 2013, Martha swallowed half a gram of MDMA powder, not knowing it was 91 per cent pure. She died within two hours after it induced cardiac failure.

Martha's mother added: "If there had been dosage guidelines, this would never have happened."

The average purity of the drug on the street is 58 per cent.

Ms Cockburn said: "She was curious. That's how human beings are."

"She was funny, she was bright, and she had a sharp mind. It's a great loss to the world."

"Forty people die every week from drug overdoses."

"Forty families have to go through what I did."

Ms Cockburn added: "It's coming up to two years since Martha's death. I'm setting up a dinner in a field with some of Martha's friends and some of my friends."

"It's been a very strange journey. She should be turning 18 and going to university."

"I'm watching her friends doing those things."

Ms Cockburn is set to speak at the International Drug Policy Reform Conference in Washington, DC in November.

She will also attend the UN

General Assembly Special Session on Drugs in April next year in New York.

The event was part of Venturefest Oxford, which took place at Said Business School.

Oxford Flow won the business-pitching contest. It is developing a 'high performance flow regulator' for use in industry and manufacturing.

The prize was legal advice, and a £1,000 cheque.

Housing bid

OXON: Oxfordshire County Council is to apply to the government for a fairer allocation of the New Homes Bonus.

Liberal Democrat leader Richard Webber raised the motion which argued that the current split of the New Homes Bonus - 80 per cent to district councils and 20 per cent to county councils - puts strain on county council budgets.

It was passed unanimously.

'Mindfulness training' for pupils study is launched

THE University of Oxford has launched a £6.4million study into 'mindfulness training' for teenagers.

The seven-year study will take place across 76 schools and involve almost 6,000 pupils, aged 11 to 14.

Mindfulness training is a technique used to prevent depression and promote mental health by improving problem-solving skills. The study is expected to begin in late 2016.

Professor Willem Kuyken, a principal investigator, said: "Mindfulness is a form of 'mind exercise' as it's a way we can improve our mental health."

Oxford Mindfulness Centre - part of Oxford University's Department of Psychiatry - will carry out the study alongside University College London (UCL), the University of Exeter and King's College London.

Prof Kuyken added: "What this project is trying to establish is whether teaching teenagers mindfulness techniques can improve their attention and resilience."

The study, being funded by the Wellcome Trust, will compare 38 schools using mindfulness training with 38 using standard teaching in personal, health and social education lessons.

Dad took on Tour de France to combat his 'midlife crisis'

A DIDCOT fundraiser rose to the challenge of his 'midlife crisis' by tackling one of the steepest stages on the Tour de France course.

Father-of-two Paul Stokes pedalled his way to the summit of the cycle race's 4,000m vertical climbing stage, called L'Etape du Tour, despite only taking up the sport seriously seven months ago.

Afterwards, Paul, 45, told the Guardian: "I had to do it, it's about fighting the midlife crisis and then being able to tell my kids, look, this is what I did when I was young!"

The lack of cycling experience on the part of the Milton Park finance firm Gener8's managing director changed after he decided to raise money for charity last December.

Paul, who lives in Birmingham, managed to complete his goal in a special race for amateurs on Sunday, albeit in an unorthodox fashion.

During his marathon stint from 8.30am to 8.30pm, he was caught by the race's broom wagon, which picks up stragglers, but refused to give up.

He said: "It was simply ridiculous, the hardest thing I've ever done. When the sweeper came round, they told me to get on a bus but I told them to sod it. I hadn't come all the way not to finish."

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Paul added: "It's been mad. I was 15 stone when I started and now I'm 12 and a half stone."

"I've been watching the race for years and last year I went to the stage and spoke to a couple of the riders and it got me thinking. I thought 'This might be a good idea...'"

Each year, the race organisers allow an amateur race on one stage before the professional cyclists take on the course.

Paul was among a group of about 15,000 amateurs taking on the Alps before the likes of Spaniard Alberto Contador and current race leader Chris Froome tomorrow.

It is stage 19 of 21 and starts in the mountainous region of Saint-Jean-de-Maurienne and finishes in Les Sybelles in the Savoie area.

Paul had trained with an online cycling coach, practising five days a week on an indoor bike. Last month, he headed to the Alps for a dummy run, cycling about 70 miles, which he described as 'a lot of hard work in very hot conditions'.

Paul has raised about £5,000

• Paul Stokes during a dummy run in the Alps last month for the Teenage Cancer Trust and his two sons, Dylan, 13, and Reece, 10, who supported him along the way. The race was won by Frenchman Jeremy Bescond in a time of 4:52.49.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called “boxes”, “blocks”, “regions”, or “sub-squares”) contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Fans enjoy festival fun

ONE of Oxfordshire's largest independent music festivals returned for its 17th year last weekend to one of its largest crowds on record.

This year's Truck Festival saw about 6,000 people descend on Steventon's Hill Farm on Friday and Saturday to see acts including Don Broco, Basement Jaxx, The Bohicas, Nothing But Thieves, Lucy Rose and Clean Bandit perform.

And despite inconsistent weather, which saw a torrential downpour take place moments before Southampton-based group Fever took to the main stage, its four members were happy with their Truck debut.

"I thought the whole set went really well and I thoroughly enjoyed it," drummer Jamie Ford told the Guardian.

"This is also the first time we've actually been in the area, and this was the biggest stage we have performed on, so we went from being nervous to incredibly excited just before we went on stage."

Originally due to kick off the music on the main stage at 12.15pm on the Friday, the sudden rainstorm occurred which delayed the south coast band's set by 15 minutes, leaving many of the fans who had been gearing up to watch the group to run back to their tents.

However, this curveball did not put off the band, who eventually saw hundreds of fans enjoy their set, with their debut single 'Shellshock' getting the biggest cheer of the set.

By James Richings

"As soon as the rain came down, the first thing I was thinking was, 'I don't want to get wet,'" guitarist Alex said.

"But the organisers were great as the 15-minute delay really helped us.

Jamie added: "When we formed two years ago, we actually got booked for a gig before we even had a name and 'Shellshock' is the only single we've released so far.

"But we have recorded a number of new tracks and releasing an EP is definitely in our plans, but a date hasn't been set yet."

The group's usual bassist Fraser Richardson was unable to play at Truck as he was on holiday, but his place was ably taken by stand-in Dan Page.

Unlike the band who were making their debut at Truck, many of the music fans were seasoned veterans of the annual festival.

These regular festival-goers included Pete Chilton, of Abingdon, who was enjoying his fifth consecutive year at the Truck event.

Pete told the Guardian: "I keep coming back because the music is brilliant and it's kind of like a mini Glastonbury."

"As you can see, the demographic is really wide here.

"There are lots of kids to old people, like myself, and the music is quite eclectic - and I really like that."

Next year's Truck Festival will take place on Friday and Saturday, July 15 and 16.

Tickets are already available to purchase on the event's website.

Whole Lotta Led

LED Zeppelin may have disbanded, but Whole Lotta Led is re-living the legacy.

And no other Led Zeppelin tribute act has been going as long.

Whole Lotta Led will be at Banbury's Mills Art Centre tomorrow night.

Formed in 1996, the current line-up consists of Nick Ferris portraying guitarist Jimmy Page, Lee Pryor performing as lead singer Robert Plant, Geoff Hunt playing as John Paul Jones on bass and Charlie Hunt emulating the late drummer John Bonham.

Whole Lotta Led also has an extra musician to add to the mix in the form of Martin Weetman on keyboard, despite Led Zeppelin only having four members.

"I have always been a huge fan of Led Zeppelin since I first heard them and have

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

all their albums on vinyl," 64-year-old Lee told the Guardian.

"We 'grew up' with this music and unlike many other LZ tribute bands on the circuit, we do not dress up and try to pretend to be Zeppelin.

"We consider the music is the most important aspect; our shows reflect the sound of Led Zeppelin at their best."

Led Zeppelin's nine studio albums during their 12 year run each peaked at number 10 or higher in the UK charts.

They also played their way to seven consecutive number one albums from 1969 to 1979, but in 1980 Led Zeppelin were no more following the death of drummer John Bonham to alcohol poisoning.

Instead their legacy lives on in the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, and through tribute acts like Whole Lotta Led.

Asked whether Led Zeppelin should have carried on after Bonham's death, Lee replied: "The music Zeppelin created was 'of its time' and I think the natural desire of a musician to create new ideas would have meant that the band would have pursued other styles and discontinued."

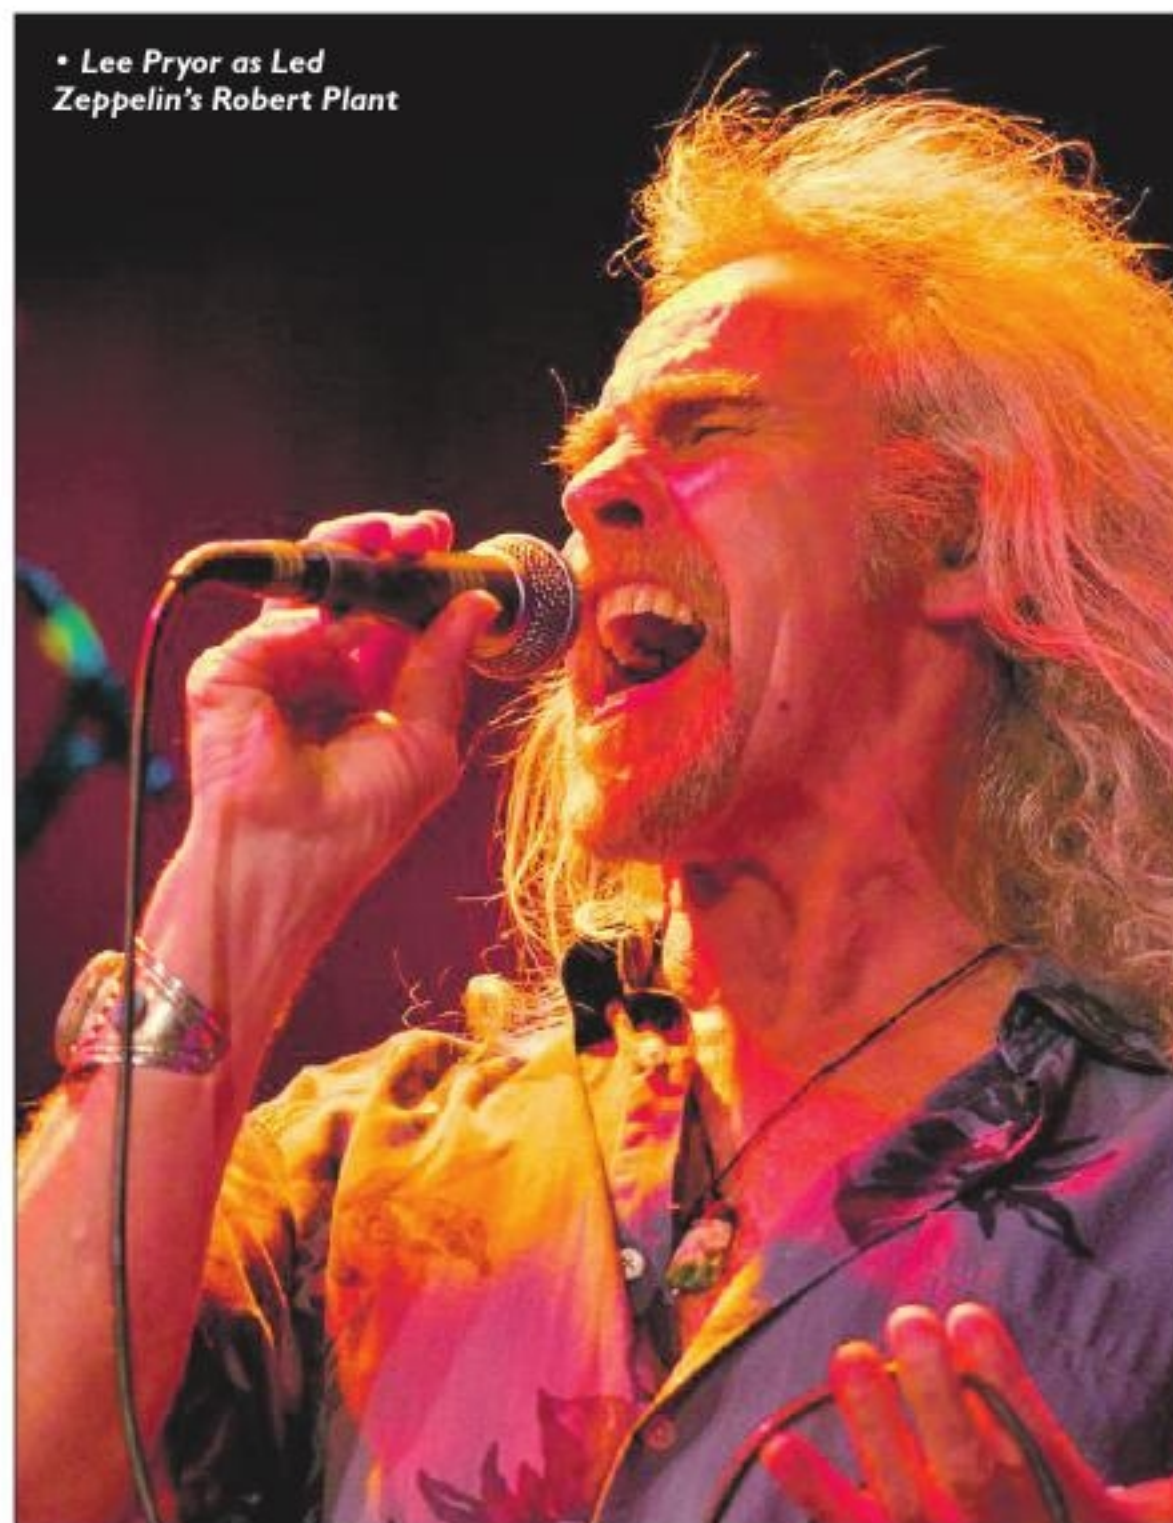

"Nothing lasts forever."

Lee added he hopes the show will inspire people to get their record collections out to listen to Led Zeppelin once again.

The gig, suitable for over 14s, starts at 8pm and costs £16.50.

LETTINGS

A healthy rental market is crucial to the overall UK housing market, says Leaders' Clare Tobin

Clare Tobin, Leaders' chief operating officer:

With so many people dependent on renting, a healthy rental market is crucial to the overall UK housing market.

It's therefore very disappointing to see the government introduce measures that are potentially damaging to the sector.

This change in tax relief for landlords will not only affect landlords, it will also be detrimental to tenants because ultimately, if landlords' margins are squeezed, they will be forced to increase their rents to make their investments work.

As it is, there are not enough properties available to meet tenant demand in many parts of the UK and rents are already high.

It is important for landlords to now consider the detail of the changes and use the graduated rate of introduction of this change.

Prospective landlords need to factor in the lower tax relief when calculating their yields to be sure they are clear on the viability of any investment they are considering.

We are able to give landlords expert guidance to help them meet this new challenge, whether they are experienced with a large portfolio or just about to make their first buy-to-let investment.

Consulting a knowledgeable expert to make the right decisions at every step of an investment is now as important as ever for landlords who want to get the most from their property or portfolio."

Oxford '1 of 7 southern cities to see huge rise in house prices'

Oxford has been identified as one of the UK's property hot-spots, with house prices in the city rising at a significantly higher rate than the UK average.

In the 12 months to May 2015, house prices across the country increased by an average of £11,500, according to the latest UK Cities House Price Index by Hometrack. However, in Oxford, this figure was £41,700, underlining the extent of the boom in the local property market at the moment.

A number of factors are said to be behind the surge in the value of property in the area, including robust demand from buyers and a strong local economy.

Philip Smithson, branch manager at Leaders in Headington, said: "Oxford is a great place to live, work and invest in, so it is no surprise that house prices continue to rise at a rapid rate.

We have certainly noticed properties are selling at considerably higher prices than they were just a few months ago.

"What's more, substantial demand from buyers means many properties in Oxford are attracting offers within just days of being put on the market."

In Oxford, house prices rose by 12.3 per cent over the course of the last year and now stand 31.1 per cent higher than they were at the property market's peak in 2007.

Only seven cities in the south of England were found to be significantly outperforming the average rise in house prices of £11,500; the others being Cambridge, London, Bristol, Southampton, Bournemouth and Portsmouth.

Philip added: "While the last year has been a positive time for the property market, the period since the general election in early May has been even more successful. More people are benefiting from the improving economy and pre-election caution has been replaced by soaring confidence.

"I would strongly advise anybody who is thinking of selling a property to do so at the current time, as sky-high demand for everything from one-bedroom flats to large family homes is assured and prices are high."

It is not only over the last year that house prices have been heading in the right direction, as the statistics also show post-election confidence has resulted in a 0.8 per cent rise in May on a month-to-month basis, some 3.8 per cent above 2007 levels.

For advice and information you can trust on selling a property, contact Leaders in Headington on 01865 764533 or visit leaders.co.uk.

Oxford's warm-up for the Edinburgh Fringe

OXFORD has no excuses not to laugh this week.

'Soho Comedy Nights' arrived at the Oxford Playhouse yesterday for a run of shows until Saturday.

Each night two different acts will take to the stage gearing themselves up for next month's Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

And one comedian hoping to coax a lot of laughs is Bec Hill, who will make her Oxford debut on Friday, July 24.

"There will be some jokes, silliness and paper-puppetry, but if the audience are there when I arrive, then they can expect me to be a bit disorientated as I don't know Oxford that well," the comedian admitted.

"I hear the Oxford audiences have great taste, so I'll definitely take it personally if I'm not asked back."

The Australian-born comic is well-known Down Under for her use of arts and crafts in shows.

Her 'paper-puppetry' landed her four

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

comedy awards, including the 'Barry Performers' choice award for best show at last year's Edinburgh Fringe.

Bec also strayed from the crowd to found the UK's only pun-based comedy night 'Pun Run' in 2011.

"I entered a stand-up comedy competition out of boredom in my gap year - I didn't have enough money to travel - and since my mum is British, even though I'm Australian, I grew up on a healthy dose of The Goodies, Monty Python and Red Dwarf," she told the Guardian.

"Any performance could be your big break. You never know who is in the audience."

Bec is due on stage at 7.30pm before London-born comic and writer James Veitch takes the spotlight.

Tickets cost from £8 to £10.

grooming and bottle feeding of lambs. You can also visit Reptile Encounters and see the snakes, chameleons and bearded dragons. There's lots of outdoor play with trampolines, go carts, sandpit, zip wire, den building and our new water bomb attraction "Water Wars". Magic Shows (Monday-Friday) take place in the Giant Indoor Play barn. We have visits from some special children's TV characters, Paddington (July 29th), Teenage Ninja Turtles (August 6th), Fireman Sam (August 13th) and Peppa Pig (August 20th) who will be making personal appearances throughout the day.

Kids go FREE for the school holidays at Stowe and Claydon

ADVENTURES await your family to run, explore and discover with free entry for children throughout the school holidays.

With time still to plan your school holiday activities, be sure to take us up on this kids go free voucher for the National Trust at Stowe and Claydon. Six weeks can fly by, but when you're looking for fresh air, discovery, family fun and value it can be hard to stretch the purse for days out.

Families can kick-start their summer adventure by completing some of the 50 Things to see and do before you're 11 3/4 - pick up a passport when you arrive to use throughout the whole year, with inspired good old fashioned fun challenges from flying kites, to rolling down big hills and hunting for bugs.

"There's something special about reminiscing over childhood memories of playing pooh-sticks, climbing trees and having fun" says Kellie Scott, Visitor Experience Manager.

"We've got a packed summer of activities and open areas just to run and be free. We guarantee fun no matter what the weather and a good night's sleep after the kids have had a day exploring. Visit us between the 23 July and 2 September and kids will go free when presenting the voucher in this paper. Bring the family along to discover history and get out in the great outdoors".

With rolling hills, Greek and Roman inspired temples, lakes and valleys, Stowe is an eighteenth-century landscape garden situated in Buckingham with space to play and get closer to nature. Claydon House near Winslow offers a fascinating adventure with tales of Civil War heroes to buccaneers of the Verney family that have lived in this lavish Georgian house and surrounding garden and parkland.

Model fights off challenge from Audi and Volkswagen Citroen C4 Cactus takes top honour

THE Citroen C4 Cactus has taken top honours at the Motor Trader Awards 2015 held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel on July 8.

It was named as 'New Car of the Year' after being described by judges as "a welcome move for customers and dealers alike, especially in a market sector which demands differentiation".

Created by British designer Mark Lloyd, the model fought off competition from across the industry, including the latest generation Audi TT and the Volkswagen Passat to pick up the top honour.

The judging panel, made up of leading automotive journalists, said: "Citroen's C4 Cactus has provided dealers with a car they can make a noise about."

"With its delivery of fun, functionality and low running costs, it is attracting new buyers to the brand making it a worthy winner of Motor Trader's New Car of the Year award."

The award-winning model was first launched in September last year.

Curtis Hutchinson, editor of Motor Trader, said: "The C4 Cactus has a winning formula of excellent ride and handling, low running costs and versatile interior dimensions, combined with adventurous styling."

"It's the perfect package and it's great to see a British designer helping spearhead automotive design."

Chris Cheetham, Citroen UK's marketing director, said: "By focusing on intelligent technologies and innovative design, we've been able to create a car that not only meets our customers' expectations, but also exceeds them."

"The C4 Cactus represents the future design direction of Citroen, so it's an extremely exciting time for our dealer network and everyone working for the brand."

The C4 Cactus is available from £12,990 and comes with the latest 'useful' technologies and efficient range of Euro 6 engines.

United suffer a wobble at Woking

OXFORD United were looking to bounce back against a reserve Benfica FC side last night just 24 hours after falling to a 1-0 defeat to Woking at the Kingsfield Stadium.

A second-half goal from John Goddard secured the win for the home side as United's new signing Sam Slocombe impressed with some stellar saves.

One of his standout efforts was when he palmed a shot with one hand over the bar from Woking's Alex Smith just 15 minutes before the end.

Slocombe was busy from the start as he darted over to his left hand post to tip Woking's Joe Jonas' effort round the post.

United midfielder Alex MacDonald nearly found the target for Oxford shortly after as he steered his effort wide of the goal after a swooping cross from Liam Sercombe.

Forward Ryan Taylor came the closest to opening the deadlock in the first half on 41 minutes after his powerful header just rose over the bar.

Shortly after the restart, Woking's Goddard found the net after Scott Rendell knocked the ball on in the box for Goddard to sweep it past Slocombe.

Johnny Mullins then rose highest at a corner to have his effort cleared off the line with 20 minutes to go, before Slocombe's superb save to deny Smith.

The U's faced off against Benfica B's at St. George's Park in Burton last night as the Guardian went to press, and had promising Indian Udanta Singh in the squad, who is currently on a month-long rail from Indian side, Bengaluru FC.

The young winger is on a 'development training' stint after being taken on by Michael Appleton's side last week.

The 19-year-old said: "The facilities are really good here and there are a lot of similarities between methods here and at Bengaluru, which makes me feel at home."

Appleton said of the promising starlet: "We are delighted to give Udanta the opportunity to keep progressing along his development path. Hopefully he will fulfil his potential."

Double delight for Abingdon as duo sign for club

ABINGDON United have secured a double midfield signing as they kicked off their pre-season with a 4-1 win over North Leigh United on Tuesday night at the Northcourt.

Goals from George Reid, Ryan Jackson-Wild, Elliot Baldwin and new signing Jamie Essex handed United the victory.

The victory was United manager Steve Alman's first game at the helm at the Northcourt, and he admitted he was 'surprised' by his team's performance.

Alman said: "It was quite surprising for me that we managed to knock four goals past a very good side."

"It was a great run out for the boys and it was really important for us to get up and running."

Alman also confirmed to the Guardian that the club have recently picked up attacking midfielder Essex and holding midfielder Jason Smith for the new season.

Both players played 90 minutes in the big win on Tuesday night and received high praise from their new manager.

Alman said: "Jamie will be a great addition as he can play up front and he will add a new dynamic to our forward line."

"We've been after Jason for a while and it's great to finally get hold of him and give our midfield some sturdiness."

Walkinshaw 'excited' for 24-hour race in Belgium

CHIPPING Norton GT racer Sean Walkinshaw is 'really excited' as he heads for Belgium's Spa Francorchamps circuit next weekend for the annual Total 24 Hours of Spa.

The race is round four of the Blancpain Endurance Series and is set to feature around 60 cars in one of the most prestigious races on the international motorsport calendar.

And Walkinshaw, 21, is confident that he will be able to make an impact this weekend.

He said: "I'm obviously really excited to take part in my first 24-hour race."

"It's definitely going to be the biggest race I've ever taken part in."

"It's one of the races where you look forward to it all season and it's going to be a massive challenge especially as I've never raced at night before."

Walkinshaw will be joined by team-mates Craig Dolby and Martin Plowman and the trio believe their Nissan GT-R NISMO GT3 should be 'extremely competitive' on the 4.3mile track.

The team is currently 10th in the Pro Cup driver standings, whilst MRS GT-Racing are seventh in the teams' championship.

Qualifying will take place on the Thursday, with the race set to start after a brief warm-up session on Saturday at 4.30pm.

City and Diddy lock horns in enticing draw

OXFORD City and Didcot Town played out an entertaining 1-1 draw in a fascinating encounter at the Loop Meadow Stadium on Sunday.

Didcot's Jimmy Deabill's header with 10 minutes to go earned the Diddy a draw in what was a pretty even contest.

Deabill was a constant presence to City from the onset and in an early chance City keeper Craig Hill had to be strong and save a powerful effort from the striker.

Shortly afterwards Carlos Piffare Farnet broke through for City but new Didcot signing Leigh Bedwell kept out his swirling effort.

After the break, Darren Pond came on for City and within five minutes, the deadline was broken as he volleyed in Jon Arzumond's cross to give City the lead.

Didcot joint managers Ian Concannon and Jamie Heapy looked to change the set up and substitute Jack Powell played a pivotal role in Didcot's equaliser.

He sent in a swooping cross and Deabill managed to rise above his man, Jose Lapoujade to knock the ball into the net with the equaliser.

TRIBUTES have been paid to former Banbury-based Formula One racing driver Jules Bianchi, who died last week nine months after a horrific accident at the Japanese Grand Prix.

Bianchi passed away last Friday night in hospital in Nice, having never woken up from a freak crash at Suzuka last October.

The Marussia driver lost control of his car in wet conditions at the fast 130R corner and speared off the track into the side of a recovery vehicle that was tending to another car.

The Frenchman hit his head against the vehicle, and was taken to hospital in Japan where he was put into an induced coma, before being transferred to his hometown of Nice.

And his former team principal John Booth has paid tribute following Bianchi's death.

He said: "Words cannot describe the enormous sadness within our team as we come to terms with losing Jules.

"He has left an indelible mark on all our lives, and will forever be part of everything we have achieved, and everything we will strive for going forward.

"He was destined for great things in our sport – success he so richly deserved – and was also a magnificent human being, making a lasting impression on countless people all over the world.

"Our thoughts and prayers are with the wonderful Bianchi family, who have remained so strong for Jules throughout the past nine months."

Bianchi scored Marussia's first and so far only points when he finished ninth at last year's Monaco Grand Prix.

His funeral was held in Nice on Tuesday, with a number of drivers attending including Lotus drivers Romain Grosjean and Pastor Maldonado, and the Williams duo of Felipe Massa and Valtteri Bottas.

On Twitter, Grosjean wrote: "We lost one of the best guys and best drivers I've ever met. I'll miss you so much my friend."

Massa wrote: "All my thoughts with Jules' family. I will miss you brother."

Maldonado added: "RIP Jules Bianchi. Big guy, big driver, big friend, hard to believe."

And Bottas wrote: "RIP Jules. You will never be forgotten. My thoughts are with the family."

A minute's silence to Bianchi will be held just before this Sunday's Hungarian Grand Prix.

Oxford's late rally not good enough in Gloucester defeat

OXFORD'S RL poor form continued as University of Gloucester All Golds (UOG) brushed them aside at the Prince of Wales Stadium on Saturday.

Oxford stumbled into the dressing room at half-time 22-0 down but rallied impressively in the second half.

UOG were on the scoreboard from the off as Jamie Murphy drove into the Oxford half, passed off to Phil Cowburn who slid to Lewis Reece to dive over just two minutes in.

Only two minutes later, UOG were further in front after captain Steve Parry went over.

Matt Bradley's two conversions put them 12-0 up.

Ryan Pywell caught a chipped kick to score the All Golds' third, and Bradley converted once more.

Emmerson Whittel then scored UOG's third before Oxford surged forward after the break and Nathan Kitson found a pocket of space to score Oxford's first.

Reece added his second of the day for the All Golds before

Josh Nathaniel embarked on a courageous run to dive over.

UOG pulled 32-10 ahead through Lee Mapals' try before Andrew Hoggins, Bobby Tyson-Wilson and Kitson barrelled over in a ten minute period.

Chris Vitalini sealed the win for UOG when he dived over with two minutes to go.

Saints close season with tight win

SAINTS managed to keep the Cornish Sharks at bay in a narrow 13-12 win in Newquay on Saturday as they closed out their regular season.

Saints went into the game knowing that they had already secured a playoff spot as they were confirmed in second in the South Football Conference West Division II.

Oxford will now go into a break before the quarter finals of the playoffs kick off on August 23, but they don't yet know who they will face first.

Oxford's captain and veteran line-backer Dean Bryan enjoyed a momentous occasion in Newquay on the day as he celebrated his 100th game of his career in his 10 years for Oxford.

Bryan said: "I've learned how to play this sport from some great players and coaches. Ten years on, I'm now one of the players who help my team-mates learn the game and teach them how to win."

"There is no team sport like this game. If you haven't played the game or got close to it, you just can't know what it's like."

The Saints will find out who their opponent in the play-offs will be once the British American Football National League plays its final games on August 9, giving the Saints time to rest.

United captain laments defence

OXFORD United Women's captain Sahara Osborne-Ricketts claimed the scoreline did not reflect the performance as her side fell to a 5-2 defeat against Doncaster Rovers Belles on Sunday.

United conceded three goals in the final 20 minutes of the game as Kat Nutman and Katie Stanley's goals were not enough as Courtney Sweetman-Kirk scored a hat-trick for the Belles. The Belles' Sophie Stamp and Beth England were also on the score sheet as the FA Women's Super League 2 returned from the summer break.

Osborne-Ricketts said: "Obviously the scoreline was a bit harsh on us, but that's football and we want to put things right in our next game.

"There are definitely lots of positives to take from the game but there was a bit of sloppy defending by us and there are things we can work on."

United manager Les Taylor lamented the 'defensive mistakes' made by his players.

He said: "We showed them

• Oxford's Sahara Osborne-Ricketts (Picture by Chris Janes)

too much respect in the first half, despite looking the better side. They weren't really good goals they scored, they were just defensive mistakes.

Sport Bites

Duo signing

ICE HOCKEY: Oxford City Stars have boosted their squad with the signings of Canadian forward Andrew Magee and American right-winger Andrew Bates.

Magee, 23, was an import at Solent Devils last season and clocked up 28 goals and 23 assists in 36 league matches.

Bates, 22, is new to the UK after arriving from Massachusetts' Worcester State University where he captained the side last season.

Wantage win

FOOTBALL: Wantage Town pulled off a strong performance on Tuesday night with a great win over Binfield thanks to goals from Sam Barder and Ben Whitehead.

Meanwhile, it was also announced on Monday that Wantage Town will play Didcot Town in the FA Cup on August 28 at Alfredian Park.

Wantage Town are set to begin their Southern League Division One South & West campaign against Slimbridge on August 8.

Fan's forum

LOTUS 'HUNGARY' FOR MORE POINTS

LOTUS F1 will be hoping to make up for a miserable weekend at Silverstone earlier this month when they line up for the Hungarian Grand Prix on Sunday.

Romain Grosjean and Pastor Maldonado got caught up in a collision on the first lap at the Northamptonshire circuit, ending both of their races before they really got going.

But both are confident they will be able to return to the points at the Hungaroring this weekend.

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Maldonado said: "My target is the same as for all the races at the start of the year - to score as many points as possible and finish the race in the best position I can."

He continued: "It is a very demanding circuit for drivers as it is often very hot and there are limited overtaking opportunities."

"Qualifying is so important at this track, but I've qualified well there in the past so hopefully I can deliver a strong performance."

"The fans create a good atmosphere and it's always nice to race at a track where there is a good feeling like this."

Grosjean will also be keen to put in a good result, after a disappointing run of four races in which he has only picked up one point.

But the Frenchman has enjoyed success at the track in the past, having come second in 2013 and third in 2012.

He said: "It's a great track and one that's suited us in the past."

"I like the circuit and its style of ups and downs and twisty corners, and I like the feeling you get when driving the track and the grip you get from it."

"The Hungaroring is not a high speed circuit so it won't play to the strength of the car through the speed traps, but we've worked pretty well in the low speed stuff."

"I think if we start the weekend well we could have quite a strong race and bag some more juicy points ahead of the summer break."

Grosjean is currently 10th in the championship standings with 17 points, while Maldonado is 13th with 12.

Sunday's race starts at 1pm.
